RAID IN THE TENDERLOIN FOLLOWS REPORTED ROBBERY.

Colored Characters of Local Fame Were Before Burgess A. D. Soisson at This Morning's Hearing.

ALL OF THEM HEAVILY FINED.

Mary French Charles Randall, Dora Redmond, Have Alternative of Paying Heavy Fines or Going to Jail for Ten to Thirty Days.

A raid in the Tenderloin district this morning resulted in the officers landing three negro women and one man. Charles Randall of Fairbank, Pa., reported to the police that he had been robbed of $30 by Mrs. Mary French during last night at Muz Lomax's place on Arch street. Chief Rottler, accompanied by Officers Detemple and Mitchell, went to the Lomax home where they placed under arrest the French woman, Dora Redmond and Ella Fairfax. Randall was also locked up.

All but Ella Fairfax was given a hearing this morning. She was too drunk to appear. Randall said that he went to the Lomax domicile last night in company with a companion. They were not there by the two women. They had lively doings in an old deserted house alongside the Lomax place. Ella Fairfax was there and between times helped to enliven the situation for the callers. This morning Randall, who has been working at the Struthers works at Fairbanks, discovered that his hoardings had disappeared. He accused the French woman of having taken them. She denied it and then he gave her a few stiff punches. From the looks of her eyes this morning he must have given her several severe jolts. Mrs. French claims that Randall struck her with the butt end of an axe handle, which was produced in court. Randall said that he had the handle in his hand, but that he did not strike her with it.

Burgess Soisson disposed of Randall's case first. He stated that he knew he was doing wrong when he went to the Lomax residence and that he was violating the law while there. He was fined $20 or 10 days. Several friends promised they'd get the $20 but had not shown up at noon.

Mrs. French said she did not frequent the Lomax place but was there last night taking care of "Muz." Although Mary had eyes that were slowly swelling shut she got no sympathy from the Burgess, and was ordered to pay a fine of $25 or go to jail for 30 days. She is the wife of Joe French, serving a term in the penitentiary for robbing the home of R. F. Sheppard.

Dora Redmond of Mt. Pleasant, who has been conspicuous on the streets for several weeks, came swaggering in and she also testified that she was taking care of "Muz," who was very ill. She gave a graphic description of how Randall, when he smacked Mary French, knocked her over "Muz's" bed and came near walloping "Muz." She said that had it not been for her intervention she believed that Randall would have torn up things in the Tenderloin. Dora was still feeling the effects of last night's spree, and told her tale with much elaboration. She said that "Muz" Lomax's place was the best colored stopping place in town, and most generally all the colored folks came there for a bed when they stayed in town. Burgess Soisson, after delivering the lecture relative to breaking up the Tenderloin, fined her $25 or thirty days to jail, and told her he would be pleased to have her take the latter to rid the town of her.

Ella Fairfax, wife of William Fairfax, now in the penitentiary for the killing of Yardmaster Moore several years ago, was also in the fracas, but her story could not be heard, as she was just nearly dead for sleep.

FELL FROM OVENS.

An unknown man, about 45 years old, was brought to the hospital on Wednesday afternoon suffering with concussion of the brain as the result of falling over the coke ovens at Davidson. He has been in an unconscious condition since his removal to the hospital and it is likely that his injuries will prove fatal.

There were no papers on his person leading to his identity. He is an Irishman.

Two Foreigners Killed.

Two Hungarians were killed by a P. V. & C. train at Duquesne yesterday morning trying to cross the track in front of a passenger train.

SNOW IN MOUNTAINS.

William DeWitt Says There Are Four Feet in Garrett County.

William DeWitt, a brother of J. A. DeWitt, who came here to attend the funeral of Mrs. Frances K. Brownlag, returned to his home at Hoyes, Md., this morning. He stated that when he left his home there were four feet of snow on the ground and that in some places the snow was drifted to a depth of eight and ten feet. He says that there is more snow in the mountains at this time of the year than he has seen for a long time, and fears that it will result in high water.

FARQUHAR DEAD.

Former Tax Collector of Washington Township Died This Morning in the Uniontown Hospital.

UNIONTOWN, Apr. 18.—Frank Farquhar died at 3.15 o'clock this morning in the hospital here. The latter part of last week he was removed from the county jail to the hospital to undergo treatment for peritonitis. Deceased was 37 years old and was born at Fayette City, where his father still resides. His mother is dead.

Three years ago he was elected tax collector of Washington township and was looked upon with high regard by his many friends. Last fall a shortage was discovered in his accounts, believed at that time to be in the neighborhood of $2,400. An investigation proved that it was all of that and more. He was arrested and when his case was called he pleaded nolo contendre. Shortly after his confinement his health began to break, and it resulted in his being taken to the hospital. Arrangements were in progress to have him removed to his home.

His remains are still at the hospital, the authorities not being acquainted with his father's name. A message, however, has been sent to Fayette City, and it is thought his friends will receive the word and have the body removed today.

Street Cleaning at Night.

The streets of Monongahela are to be swept at night.

FIRST GAME

Between Uniontown and Connellsville Will Be Played at Cycle Park This Afternoon.

The first game of baseball in Uniontown will be played this afternoon at Cycle park between the Uniontown P. O. M. champions and the team of ball tossers Manager W. S. Malarkey has gathered to represent Connellsville. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. Uniontown has a lot of experienced and fast players. They are a known quantity, while the men Malarkey has have to show what they can do. The teams are in different classes so far as baseball dope is concerned, but that does not say the locals are not liable to turn in and wallop the champions. They are going to Uniontown with that purpose, and whether they win or not they promise to be fighting for the game until the last man is out.

The Connellsville boys have been disappointed in the weather as have all ball players during the past two weeks. They have not been able to get much practise. The grounds at Marietta-Stillwagon park are in a miserable condition and considerable work will have to be done on them between now and tomorrow for the Uniontown game.

The pitchers at Uniontown this afternoon are the worst proposition Malarkey's players will stack up against. There are some pretty old heads on the shoulders of such men as Alex. Pearson, Farmer Brown, Kruger and Arch Osborne. Malarkey will rely on Johnny Woodruff and Gaiser. The Uniontown fans look on the Connellsville team as a sort of joke. The Connellsville fans are not saying anything. They will talk after they see the boys in action and know just what kind of stuff they are made of. Everyone is rooting for them to win and if good wishes will do any good the game is as good as sewed up for the Center of the Coke Region. The teams will line up as follows:

In an interesting game at Marietta Park yesterday the Dawson team tied the Connellsville nine 6 to 6. Butternore of Dawson proved troublesome for the locals and they found difficulty in hitting him. Today they will have to get their batting eyes in better shape or there will be a fearful tale to tell.

THAW SEES EXPERT.

Dr. Jelliffee Calls on Prisoner at his Own Solicitation and Spends Two Hours With Him.

Publishers' Press Telegram.

NEW YORK, Apr. 18.—The squabble over Harry Thaw's counsel has apparently been partially adjusted through continuing Hartridge and Peabody as his attorneys, of record. A new senior counsel is expected to be named but no announcement of the selection is yet forthcoming. Peabody spent an hour in conference with Thaw today but would not talk of their discussion.

It became apparent this morning that Dr. Jelliffee, one of the alienists who appeared for defense in the recent trial, paid Thaw a visit with Peabody last night remaining nearly two hours. Dr. McGuire, the regular prison physician, was ill yesterday, and it was reported Thaw had been obliged to call in a private physician because he was sick. This is denied, however, and the explanation was made that Thaw merely wished to talk with the expert about his own case.

Mrs. William Thaw started for Pittsburg this morning to raise money, it is said, for the security for her son Harry Thaw. The Countess of Yarmouth accompanied her. It is stated that within the next ten days Mrs. Thaw expects to turn certain securities she holds into at least one million dollars cash in anticipation that such bail bond might be demanded for son's liberty.

DAMAGE SUIT

Entered by a Connellsville Italian Against Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for $2,000.

UNIONTOWN, Apr. 18.—Dominick Pasalaqua of Connellsville has entered a suit in trespass for $2,000 against the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Pasalaqua alleges that on the evening of March 27 he was a passenger from Pittsburg to Connellsville on a B. & O. train. A few miles outside the city, a brakeman, he alleges, came up to him and said something that he did not understand. In a few minutes the brakeman and conductor, so Pasalaqua claims, came in together and they pulled him out of a seat and took him towards the smoking car. In passing between the two cars the plaintiff alleges that he fell and hurt himself so badly that he had to have a physician.

The general impression is that Pasalaqua was enjoying a Havana in the ladies' coach when the incident happened.

Killed With Beer Bottle.

Enraged because he was refused a drink, 19 year old Benjamin Riddle of Leechburg, hurled a beer bottle at John Obringer, a bartender at the American Hotel in Brackenridge, Allegheny county, yesterday afternoon, knocking him to the floor and breaking his neck, causing instant death.

No Black Hand.

THE LYDICK BILL PASSES THE HOUSE.

HELP TO INDEPENDENT VOTER.

Was Advocated by Late Senator Quay in Later Years of His Life—Endorsed Yesterday by Farmer Creasy, Democratic Leader.

Special to The Courier.

HARRISBURG, Apr. 18.—The Lydick primary election bill passed the House finally yesterday by a vote of 128 to 44. It contains a provision inserted by Speaker McClain, for a popular vote on the United States Senatorial candidates and a stringent "assistance" clause put in by "Farmer" Creasy. These two features, or at least the former, will probably be taken out in the Senate. The principal opposition to the bill came from Philadelphia, 29 of the 44 votes coming from that city. Allegheny furnished one opponent in Mr. Hunter. Others voting against it were James, Cambria; Raymond, Shreve and Deltzel, Erie, and Weingartner, Lawrence.

"Farmer" Creasy supported Lydick's appeal to let it go to the Senate unchanged. He thought well of the vest-pocket and official envelope vote, despite the fact that this plan had been recommended by M. S. Quay near the end of his life. The taking home of the ballots for consultation with sons and wives would minimize incorrect marking. And after the voter was sure of this, he would be equally sure of absolute secrecy under the provision barring out unnecessary "assistants." Creasy added: "This official envelope will ultimately lead to honest and independent voting. It is one of the greatest steps forward in that direction."

Without any talk supplemental to yesterday's debate upon the Casey employers' liability bill, the House passed it finally and sent it to the Senate by a vote of 166 to 10.

Legislation permitting the osteopaths' representation on the State Medical Council was passed finally by the Senate by a vote of 31 to 2. The opponents were Dewell of Lehigh and Rowland of Pike. The bill was returned to the House for action on the Senate amendments, which were concurred in. If Governor Stuart approves the bill he must not later than July 1 appoint a Board of seven medical examiners representing the Pennsylvania Osteopathic Association. The President of the Board with the Presidents of the Allopathic, Homeopathic and Eclectic Boards, the Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of Internal Affairs Superintendent of Public Instruction and Commissioner of Health will constitute the State Medical Council. The osteopaths have been fighting for years to secure this representation.

The amendments to the initiative and referendum bill prepared by Senator Flynn and the third-class city solicitors were presented to the Senate Judiciary General Committee. Senator Brown of Philadelphia said there was a desire for a public hearing in the legislation and succeeded in having it fixed two weeks hence. The Howard inheritance tax bill, defeated last week, and the Beidleman measure to prohibit foreigners from carrying guns, defeated Monday, were revived yesterday, but not acted upon. The House defeated the Phillips bill creating a legislative reference bureau by a vote of 70 to 66. This is the second time the House has declined to pass the proposition.

The House passed on second reading the Moore amendment to the constitution authorizing the bond issue of $25,000,000 for building roads. The Bluestone bill to authorize the Water Supply Commission to investigate plans to prevent floods in the Monongahela and Allegheny Valleys will be discussed at a hearing before the Appropriations Committee Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

TO HOLD SMOKER.

Central Trades and Labor Council Will Hold It and Have Invited Samuel Gompers.

The Central Trades and Labor Council have planned to hold a large smoker on May 17, at which representatives from all trades will be present. Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, is expected to be present and deliver an address. Mr. Gompers has promised to address the local Trades Council, and it is believed that he can be secured for the smoker on May 17.

Besides Mr. Gompers the committee in charge of the smoker have already arranged to secure a number of prominent union speakers from different parts of the State. In the event that Mr. Gompers can attend the meeting it will be held in the Colonial Theatre, otherwise it will likely be held in Trades Council hall, over the Rutsek bank.

KLONDYKE MURDER.

McBeth Makes Another Arrest in Mysterious Shooting of Foreigner on Saturday Night.

UNIONTOWN, Apr. 18.—County Detective Alex. McBeth and Constable Milton Morris returned from the Klondike region this morning, where they have been investigating the death of John Marecija. The officers claim they have some important evidence that will add materially in clearing up the mystery surrounding the case. They brought with them one prisoner, Mike Stehkr, who they are convinced knows something in relation to the murder. The revolver, which was a .32 calibre Colts automatic weapon, was the property of Stehkr. When arrested he stated that it was not his weapon, but finally admitted that the revolver did belong to him. Stehkr's home is at House No. 154, Edenborn.

Marecija was found in a field on the Struble farm, between Edenborn and Gates. County Detective McBeth is convinced that Marecija did not commit suicide as was first supposed. When the body was found it was lying upon its back, and there were seven bullet holes in it. The Colts pistol was lying near the right hand. The man's legs were crossed, and it looked as if particular care had been taken to do this.

The remains of the foreign were interred from the Catholic Church at New Salem. There was a big turnout.

It is very exhaustive and a great deal of clerical work is attached to the reports.

Letter to Thos. Blackstone, Connellsville, Pa.

Dear Sir: You've got 200 cows; how much will you take for calves and milk of 100 of them next year—you pick out the 100?

How much for the other 100?

It is so with paint. You've got one best cow in that herd. There are 200 different paints in the United States; and one best. You know your best cow; we know the best paint.

The best cow is the one that gives the best calves and milk. The best paint is the one that covers the most surface and stays there longest—neither paint nor cow goes by color—nobody asks whether Holstein or Jersey is better to look at.

10 gallons Devoe will cover your barn and wear 10 years; I'll take 15 of another paint, and that paint'll wear 5 years.

Reckon costs. Devoe, 10 gallons $1.75, $17.50; about 10 days work $3, $30; the job, $17.50 for ten years, $4.75 a year. The other: 15 gallons $1.60, $24; about 15 days work $3, $45 the job, $69 for five years; $13.80 a year. Devoe $1.75 a year; the other $13.80 a year. Difference $9 a year.

That's how to reckon cows and paint. Yours truly,

The program will be as follows: Salutatory, Fred. McFarland; essay, Jennie Boose; oration, Edward Scull; class poet, Elizabeth Cook; essay, Clara Dunstadt; recitation, Elizabeth Beisecker; oration, Nelle Shaffer, valedictory, Pearl Sorber. The Class Day exercises will be as follows: Historian, Happie Hough; pessimist, Keturah Ream; optimist, Grace Hefley; will, Lucy Swank; prophecy, Julia Lutz; donor, Mary Coffroth; recitation, Hazel Ruby; ladder orator, Walter Pugh; essay, Elizabeth Pyle. An answer to the ladder orator will be delivered by a Junior who has not yet been selected.

Notice has been given that on the 8th day of May an application will be made to Governor Stuart for a charter for a company to be known as the Walker Granite Company. The new company is composed of E. H. Walker, W. F. Walker, G. N. Horn, John C. Emert and M. J. Pritts and the purpose is to conduct quarries in this vicinity. It is probable that the new company will also add several factories in which raw material will be transformed into marketable products in case the new venture proves profitable.

The case on trial at present in the civil court now in session is that of Hannah Chambers against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, a suit for the recovery of damages for the death of the plaintiff's husband, who was killed at Windber by a P. R. R. engine on the evening of October 20, 1903. In the opening of the case it was stated that the street crossing where the accident took place is on the main street of the town of Windber, that there are no safety gates or sign boards and that the train which struck Robert Bruce Chambers was travelling at a rate of speed far in excess of that prescribed in the borough ordinance. The trial of this case is being heard by Judge Galbraith of Butler and it will likely occupy the time of the court for at least two days

An unusually large number of cases have been disposed of in this term of civil court. There have been at least 22 cases disposed of by trial, settlement or withdrawal of suit. This morning five cases were continued. The case of John W. Hoskins against the Somerset Coal Company and others, a suit for trespass, was non-suited. A verdict has been returned in the case of Susan Dively against the Grand Union Tea Company in favor of the plaintiff. This was an action of Sheriff's interpleader in which the Tea company sought to sell goods claimed by the wife for the husband's debts. In the case of Susan E. Dively against Jesse Crist's administrator, an action in assumpsit, a verdict of $175 for the plaintiff was returned. In another assumpsit case for the recovery of money, that of Elizabeth Scott against John L. Gardner's executor, binding instructions were given to the jury by the court that a verdict in favor of the defendant be returned.

It is stated that the new hotel now being constructed by the Real Estate & Insurance Company will be equipped with a roof garden which will be among the finest in the State.

Walter Sipe, son of H. L. Sipe, President of the Farmers' National Bank, has returned from Cumberland, where he and Miss Anna Rohrabaugh were recently married. His wife accompanied him.

Rev. J. D. Garrison of the Christian Church will preach the baccalaureate sermon for the High School class of 1907 on April 28, in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Notice has been given that on May 9 application for a charter will be made to Governor Stuart for a corporation to be known as the Randolph Coal Company. H. C. Sical, O. E. L. Stotler and W. H. Stotler are at the head of the new company.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

BRYAN BEING ADVISED IN THE ENEMY'S COUNTRY.

The proposition that Colonel William Jennings Bryan present to the next Democratic National Convention the name of Theodore Roosevelt as the nation's nominee for President did not provoke a very hearty acquiescence from the Colonel. "As at present advised," he did not promise.

He has been in "the enemy's country" seeking encouragement for himself, and he has found it, but attached is a string with some discouraging knots tied in it. The radical wing of the party demands Government ownership of the railways, while the conservative end, the old Democracy, will stand for nothing more than Government regulation. Some of them have doubts about the propriety of even this.

In consequence of this dilemma, Colonel Bryan is on the fence in a brown study. The wind he has sown is developing a crop of whirlwind that threatens again to blow both himself and the Democratic party off the political earth.

Colonel Bryan is accustomed to defeat, but it's hard to see one's support crumble underneath him and dwindle away, and it's harder still to surrender the crown and scepter of a great party after having worn them so long and so royally.

A PUZZLED POLITICAL EXPERT.

The adolescent Uniontown Herald petulantly and profanely declares that it doesn't understand The Courier's remarks about the possible practical effects of the McCord bill; and this is the organ established in Fayette county to teach the hayseeds how to play the game of politics!

In the old days when a Democratic nomination was equivalent to an election in Fayette county, the late Colonel Thomas Brownfield Searight played with great skill and success the game of raising a cloud of ambitions and placing a lot of dummy candidates in order to split the vote and secure the nominations for his own followers under the Crawford county system.

Some of the old Democratic war horses are still living along the Pike. They could tell the puzzled editor of The Herald about the practical workings of the primary game.

EXTENSIONS OF SEWERAGE AND OF FIRE LIMITS.

Among the questions discussed by the Town Council at its meeting this week were the extension of the sewerage system into portions of the Fourth Ward recently taken into the borough and the extension of the fire limits to include the growing business section of the town.

The necessity of neither will be questioned, but the authority of sewer extensions is dependent upon the permit of the State Board of Health under recent legislation.

There is no inhibition or restriction upon the enlargement of the fire limits, however, and justice to the owners of good business property in the business portion of the town demands that it be not jeopardized by cheap frame shacks that are unsightly and dangerous.

The Courier pony seems to be leading The News band wagon a lively chase. The News says it sets the pace, but there are not lacking indications it doesn't keep the pace up. That pony is a streak of chain lightning and he hasn't gotten his second wind yet.

CHURCH GROWING.

Report of Dr. J. J. Huston for Session of First U. P. Congregation for Past Year.

Dr. J. J. Huston has completed the report for the session of the First United Presbyterian congregation for the church year which closed on March 30, and the report is very satisfactory to the members and adherents of the church. Among the items of interest are the following: Thirty new members were received during the year, and two deaths were recorded. There was contributed $483 to the general missionary work of the denomination, and the congregation raised for all purposes during the past twelve months $6,632, which is $1,372 more than was contributed the previous year.

The past year has been the most successful in the history of the organization, and it is very evident that it will only be a short time until a new church will be needed to accommodate the congregation. The Sabbath school needs more room at the present time, and the attendance at the regular church service is much larger than it was one year ago. The debt on the parsonage has been reduced, the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society became responsible for one-half of the debt of $2,300, on condition that the Trustees secure the other half. The ladies' organization has paid their part in full and the Trustees have only a few hundred dollars to raise, and then the entire debt will be paid.

SCOTTDALE GAMES.

Play Yannigans Tomorrow and McKeesport on Saturday.

SCOTTDALE, Apr. 18.—The Scottdale West Penn League team will play their first game of ball tomorrow at Ellsworth park. Billy Earle has gotten a fast bunch of players together, that is they appear so on paper, and the fans will be given a chance to see them in action tomorrow. The squad will be divided into the Yannigans and Regulars.

On Saturday the first big game of the season will be played. The McKeesport team of the P. O. M. League will be at Scottdale, headed by Jack Menefee, and the fact that the old Scottdale boy will be in command of the boys from the Tube City in itself will bring out a crowd. McKeesport, so far, is an unknown quantity and Scottdale will also get its real tryout in that game.

BLACK CROOK.

Big Burlesque Show Comes to the Colonial Saturday Night.

Harry Hastings' "Black Crook, Jr," Burlesquers furnish the fun at the Colonial Theatre Saturday evening, April 20th. There are two burlesques in the show, entitled, "Oh, What a Night," and "A Midnight Supper," giving a wide scope for plenty of fun, singing and the appearance of 20 of the prettiest of show girls, who cut up all kinds of capers.

The olio contains some excellent acts, among which may be mentioned Curtis & Adams, comedians par excellence; Mlle. Devere, presenting her startling novelty, "Caught in the Act;" Stella Blodgett, the little girl with the big voice; the two Dalys, travesty stars; Ira Kessner, with the latest illustrated songs, and May Butler, the Georgia coon shouter.

DEFEATED DOUGLAS.

Dunbar High School Walloped the Boys From Connellsville.

The Dunbar township High School baseball team showed that it was superior to the Douglas College team Tuesday afternoon by defeating the team by a score of 11-2. The Douglas team made many errors. The township team showed the results of careful coaching, their team work being first class.

The team has wonderfully improved since the game played with the Vanderbilt team. Each man on the team made two hits. The township team is ready to arrange a schedule with any team in their class. Address William Brown at Dawson.

Your Trade

We want a share of it. Just as much a share as this store deserves because of the goods we have here and the prices at which they are marked. If this store can not serve you better than you can be served elsewhere it would have no right to expect you to so consider it; your home store. By serving you better, we do not mean giving you occasional bargains that may seem wonderful because of their lateness, but doing better by you by day in and day out selling. By selling you dependable goods at reasonable prices. That's our reason for expecting a share of your trade, and we ask you to come and investigate and find out for yourself whether this store deserves a share of your trade and if so how much of a share

Dress Trimmings.

You can spend as much as you like for the material, you can pay as much as you like for the making and unless you have the right kind of trimming your dress will not be the success that you wish it to be. Most stores pay very little attention to this stock. Consider it one that pays very little profit. If you will notice the room that we give it here and the stock we carry you will know how much attention we give this stock. The best advertisement this stock could have, is the amount of trimmings that we sell to match dress goods bought elsewhere than at this store. You know about this even if you have been buying your materials elsewhere. If you wanted exactly the right kind of trimmings you had to come to this store for them. This store does give attention and lots of it towards having exactly the right things in dress trimmings.

Under Muslins.

Muslins and all cotton goods have advanced, are still advancing in price. During the last week we have received a shipment of these made from muslins that were bought at the old prices. It means buying these garments at about cost of the material and no charge for the making, and they are made as you would have them made. This lot comprises gowns at 75 cents, $1.00 and $1.25. Skirts at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00, and drawers at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00 the pair. About 3,000 garments in the lot. Well made and daintily trimmed with lace and embroidery.

In the Carpet Room.

In spite of the advance in the cost of woolen yarns we quote you nearly every grade of carpet at same price as last year. This means a saving to you, and this means to us that, at the advanced cost, we must sell more carpets than ever before in order to make up for it. We expect and are ready to properly care for an increased business in this department. The record of the carpets we have sold in the years past will help towards this increased business. The assortment of patterns and prices will also help. If you have a carpet thought you owe it to your pocketbook to pay this carpet room a visit.

WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

A GYMNASTIC ENTERTAINMENT.

It Will Be Held at the Colonial Theatre Tomorrow Evening When Loving Cups Will Also Be Presented to Winners of Membership Contest.

No institution of Connellsville has shown more activity and success in the past six months than has our Young Men's Christian Association. The financial success has been most gratifying to the management and it is a source of great inspiration to the whole membership, but next in importance is the large membership of the Association which shows that our people are appreciating its advantages. The work in education, Bible study, public entertainments, religious meetings, shop meetings and public receptions have been far beyond all the fondest hopes of the employed officers and Board of Directors, but probably most of all do the young fellows rejoice in the great success of the physical work of the Association. The fact that 250 persons have taken advantage of the scientific training in building of better bodies is an eloquent testimonial of the great need this worthy institution is filling.

The inside work of that department will close with a great Carnival of Gymnastics tomorrow night in Colonial Theatre. This will be one of the most unique entertainments ever given in Connellsville. More than 115 persons will perform. It will be a great surprise to the people of this community to know that such a show is possible with local talent. The people of Connellsville own this splendid Association and its company of athletic men and boys a crowded house and it will be no compliment at all if the theatre is not chowded to its capacity. Nothing of the kind as ever been given in our midst and many may imagine that it may not be meritorious, but any who miss it will have serious cause for regret. The program does not give a just intimation of the merits of the exhibition but it is given to give just a hint.

One of the enjoyable and interesting features will be the presentation of the loving cups to the teams that have been contesting for new members. That contest will close tomorrow at noon. All the memberships secured in the last 48 hours of the contest and there may be some surprises to those who may think that the contest is already decided. The cups will be presented by President Worth Kilpatrick unless the team of which he is captain should win, in which case Dr. G. W. Gallagher, First Vice President, would make the presentation. Two elegant loving cups will be presented.

The program of the exhibition follows with the membership of the gymnasium teams that will be represented in the exhibition.

Final examinations will end tomorrow.

Special trains from Layton and Star Junction to contest and commencement April 19 and 22, respectively. The liberal minded men of Star Junction and Layton donated enough to to company to justify them to run a train both evenings.

The reserved seats, all the main floor in the M. E. Church, were all sold Wednesday evening at 4 P. M., except 25, for contest, and 10 for commencement. The Sunday school room will be thrown open, but seats will not be reserved.

She enjoyed good health until about five weeks ago, when she contracted hasty consumption, which resulted in death. Besides her father and mother she leaves four brothers and one sister, all living at home. The deceased enjoyed a wide circle of friends who extend their heartfelt sympathy to the family in their sad bereavement.

COMBINE TO STOP RUN.

Waynesburg Bankers Stand Together, Prosecution for False Reports.

WAYNESBURG Apr. 17.—[Special.] Through the concerted action of the three national banks of this city and the Union Deposit & Trust Company, an incipient run on one of the financial institutions of the city was nipped in the bud, thus preventing further financial troubles in the community that has already suffered so much through the closing of the Farmers & Drovers National Bank last fall.

The institutions which prevented the threatened trouble have joined in a coalition for the protection of themselves against such contingencies in the future, and have issued a statement declaring that the threatened run had its origin in false reports circulated by malicious persons. The statement continues:

"Knowing that each of the three national banks and the Union Deposit & Trust Company of this place are entirely solvent and able to pay dollar for dollar twice over for every deposit therein, we do hereby assure depositors in each of these institutions that their money is perfectly secure, and further assure the public that all said banking institutions have agreed to stand together for the protection of the interests of the public.

We hereby express our determination to stop these false reports, and ask our friends throughout the county to report to us any person starting or circulating such reports, and we will prosecute such persons to the full extent of the law.

THEATRICAL.

Romance of the Passion.

The theatregoers here are promised an exceptional dramatic treat by the managers of Esther Hoover, who appears here on Monday evening, April 29, at the Colonial Theatre with her company of players in "Crucifixus, a Romance of the Passion." The play has been decreed by Professor Frank Soule of the University of California to me "the classic gem of the century," and though commended by the most eminent divines of all creeds for its biblical worth, it has an enchanting romance that is of interest to all classes of theatregoers.

Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman.

Handsome S. Miller Kent believes in surrounding himself with beautiful women. Supporting him, when he comes to the Colonial on Wednesday, April 24, with the unique play, "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," will be seen Miss Lillian Rhodes, who would grace a queen's drawing room; what is as much to the point, Miss Rhodes is the mistress of dress. Her magnificent and tasteful gowns are one of the great pleasures of "Raffles" to the fair portions of the audience.

LAWYER DICK ARRESTED.

Member of Cumberland, Md., Bar Charged With Embezzlement.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Apr. 18.—Robert A. L. Dick, a member of the Cumberland bar, is under arrest on three indictments for embezzlement. His bail has been fixed at $1,500, which he has not given.

The charges grow out of transactions in which Dick figured as attorney. One case was that of Mrs. Mary Powell, who, it is claimed, gave Dick $500 to indemnify bondsmen for her son. As counsel for Peter Scally, Mr. Dick is alleged to have illegally retained $250 in a mortgage transaction. In the third case Dick is alleged to have kept $150 given to him to lift a bill of sale.

Gorman & Co. Sell Good Shoes Cheap

From Westmoreland's County Seat.

GREENSBURG, Apr. 18.—Westmoreland county's court house bonds have at last been sold. A telegram was received last night from Harrison & Loeb of Philadelphia, Pa., stating that the issue had been passed upon by their attorney and that they were ready to take the million dollar issue. This evening Commissioners Reamer, Shupe and Shaffer will go to Philadelphia to deliver the bonds. They will take the valuable paper in a suit case, and will bring back a draft for $1,030,000, the amount of the bonds, $10,000 premium and $20,000 accrued interest. The first thing done with the new money will be to pay off a floating indebtedness of $75,000 which has been paid on estimates on the new court house. The Commissioners claim that they have saved the county $25,000 by the delay in issuing the bonds, because the loans secured to pay estimates bore interest at five per cent, and were for short terms only.

A pathetic figure in the county jail is "Gold Tooth Diamond," alias Fred Bowen, the negro who shot Private Frank Hershey at Monessen last fall. He has contracted consumption and will die, according to jail physician John J. Singer. Bowen is resigned to his fate.

A. O. H. RESOLUTIONS

Adopted at the Meeting Held at Dawson Last Sunday.

The following resolutions were adopted at the meeting of the A. O. H. at Dawson Sunday afternoon:

We, the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Fayette county, Pa., in convention assembled, desire to express our entire sympathy with the "Sinn Fein" movement in the old land and we recognize that such a policy is the only logical and correct one for the people of Ireland today. For over one hundred years we have had Constitutional agitation, that brought with it two necessities. First, of raising money abroad from the exiled Irishmen who were driven from home by the tyrannical laws of Britain, and second, the spending of that money in London, thereby swelling the coffers of the alien and hated government who were and are misruling our people. "Sinn Fein" provides for the internal industrial development of Ireland, and the education of the people to rely on themselves. These two things accomplished in spite of England, and national independence must and will follow.

We also condemn without qualification the so-called "Irish Exposition" to be held this year in Dublin, and we warn all true lovers of Ireland to lend neither aid or sympathy to it. The money to put up the buildings, the material with which they are constructed and workmen to erect them were all imported from England and by Englishmen for the purpose of demonstrating to the Irish people how cheaply they could buy British manufactured articles, with the intention in view of stifling the movement for development of home industry. We also hear with joy the fact that the Irish people are to have an Exposition purely Irish, of Irish manufactures in 1908, and we urge all Irishmen at home and abroad to give every aid and assistance to the movement for the purpose of demonstrating to the rest of the world that our people at home are just as bright, capable and accomplished in their own country as they have become in this and other countries.

Resolved, That we as a body shall do everything in our power to accomplish the independence of the old land and foster the sentiment of the "Sinn Fein" among our people.

There is no necessity of our expressing our fealty to the country of our adoption, which the history of the achievements of our race at Quebec, Bunker Hill, Valley Forge Spottsylvania, Wilderness, Antietam and Gettysburg will testify. Let the thousands of unknown Irish dead be sufficient witness to our love for the grand old flag. On the strength of the many sacrifices of our race for liberty in other lands, we now ask the people of America for sympathy and support in the struggle for Irish emancipation and independence.

DAWSON.

Live Notes From the Busy Little Town Down the Yough.

DAWSON, Apr 18.—The Dawson baseball team went to Connellsville Wednesday and played the West Penn League team of that place, the score resulting in a tie, 0 to 0. The weather was cold and kept the crowd down. It was just to give the big Leaguers a little practise, but as the Connellsville manager made a kick on a certain decision in the sixth inning, it looked very much as if the game was to be played in "Big League" style. The Dawson team was not what will represent our town this season, as several of the local players were absent, thinking there would be no game on account of the bad weather. Butlermore, the Dawson pitcher, made good against the big Leaguers. A game will be arranged between the two teams later in the season, when Connellsville has an open date.

Mrs. Fred Seibert was a Connellsville caller Wednesday.

Mrs. Anthony King was calling on friends at Connellsville Wednesday.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

Rekindles Life in the Nerve Cells

Suicide, insanity, failing sickness paralysis. These are some of the results of worn-out nerves. No one would neglect a disease so dreadful in its results as nervous exhaustion if the danger were only realized with the first symptoms.

The time to begin the restoration of the nerves by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is when you find yourself unable to sleep at nights, suffering from headaches or neuralgic pains, indigestion or weak heart action.

Loss of flesh and weight, growing weakness and debility, a tendency to neglect the duties of the day, gloomy forebodings for the future, are other indications of depleted nerves.

You cannot liken Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to any medicine you ever used. They are a nerve vitalizer and tissue-builder of exceptional power.

Naturally and gradually, they rekindle life in the nerve cells and form new red corpuscles in the blood—the only way thoroughly to cure nervous disorders. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, 50 cents, at all dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Med. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

CHAPTER XXVI.

GUY moved uneasily upon his chair. The color mounted almost to his forehead. It was a humiliation, this upon which he had not counted. M. Grisson was sitting within a few feet of him. A serviette was tucked carefully underneath his collar, and his face was a little flushed with the exercise of eating. His eyes, however, were undimmed, and his manners, although a little brusque, had certainly not merited the epithet of bourgeois!

"It isn't much of a story," Guy began, making a desperate effort. "It was my first visit to Paris, and I lost my head a bit. I drank too much wine and quarreled with a fellow who certainly insulted me. They all told me that I must fight him, so"—

"Stop, M. Poynton!"

Guy raised his head in surprise. The exclamation had come from the Duc de Bergillac. M. Grisson was looking toward him as though for an explanation.

"My dear young friend," the duke remarked, with a smile, "it is my stupidity which is to blame. I had forgotten the little matter to which you are alluding, and—between ourselves—it is one which is very much better not related to M. Grisson. I was alluding to your other adventure—up in the Pozen forest."

Guy for a moment was too astonished for words. Then he recovered himself with a little laugh and raised his head. There was nothing terrible in the other affair.

"I will tell M. Grisson about that with pleasure," he said, "if it is likely to interest him. I was in the north of Germany on a walking tour, and I had rather a stupid fancy to go as far as the Russian frontier and then return by Vienna to Paris. I was quite alone and had no one's plans but my own to consult, so I started off from Steritz, I think the place was called. Well, we were within about forty miles of a place called Renzan when our train was stopped and shunted. We were told that some specials were to go by. I should think we must have waited there for an hour or more. Anyhow I got sick of it and passed through the cars on to the rear platform and down on to the line. I spoke to the guard, and I understood him to say that we should not be starting for at least twenty minutes. I strolled along the line a little way and stopped to light a pipe. Suddenly I heard a whistle, and when I turned round the rear light of the train was moving away. I shouted and ran as hard as I could, but it was no use. In less than two minutes the train was out of sight, and I was left alone."

"I wonder," he said, "if you could put your finger on about the spot where you were? Here, you see, is the railway line."

Guy studied it for a few moments carefully and looked at the scale. Then he pointed to a certain spot.

"As near as I could say," he declared, "about there."

The duke and M. Grisson exchanged quick glances. Guy was beginning to feel a little mystified.

"Proceed, if you please," the duke said courteously. "I am sure that M. Grisson finds your story most interesting. Permit me."

Guy sipped the fin champagne from the glass which the duke had carefully filled and took a cigarette from the box at his elbow.

"I found myself," he continued, "in the middle of a dense pine forest, with just sufficient clearing for two lines of rails and no more. There seemed to be nothing for me to do but to walk ahead in the direction which the train had taken. I lit a pipe and started out all right, but I very soon got tired. The sleepers were a long way apart, and the track between frightfully rough. I walked for hours without seeing the slightest sign of a station or a break in the woods, and finally I sat down dead beat. My feet were all blisters, and I felt that I couldn't walk another yard. Fortunately it was a warm night, and I made up my mind to crawl under the bracken just inside the wood and go to sleep. I found a comfortable place, and I'd just gone off when a noise close at hand woke me. I sat up and looked around.

"Within a few feet of me an engine and a single carriage had pulled up. At intervals along the line as far as I could see soldiers were stationed like sentries. I could see that they were looking sharply up and down and even a little way into the wood. From the train three or four men in long cloaks had already descended. They were standing in the track talking together."

For the first time M. Grisson interrupted. He took his cigar from his mouth and leaned over toward the young Englishman.

"You were lost yourself. You did not accost them? Ask them the way anywhere?"

"It seems odd, I suppose, that I didn't," Guy answered, "but do you know there was an air of secrecy about the whole thing which rather frightened me. And those soldiers had exactly the air of looking for somebody to shoot. Anyhow, while I was hesitating what to do there was a whistle and another train came from the opposite direction. Then, of course, I waited to see what was going to happen."

"And you saw?" the duke began.

"I saw another single carriage arrive, more men in long cloaks and more soldiers. There was a brief but hearty greeting between two men who seemed to be the principals in this little pantomime. Then they both got into the train which had arrived first, and I could see them sitting at a table talking, and a third man, who seemed to be a sort of secretary, was writing all the time. In about half an hour they both stepped back on to the line, and every one commenced shaking hands and saying goodby. Then the whole thing seemed to melt away. The trains went on, the soldiers climbed into a truck attached to one of them, and everything was just as quiet as before."

"And afterward?"

"I waited until it was clear daylight, and then I resumed my walk along the line. I found the next station about five miles off, and I was thankful to see that the guard of the train which had left me behind had had the sense to put my luggage out there. I went to the hotel and had some breakfast, and afterward I chucked my idea of going so far as the frontier and left for Vienna. A week later I was in Paris."

The duke nodded.

"I have asked you this question before," he said, "but M. Grisson is anxious to hear it from your own lips. To how many people did you tell this little adventure of yours before you reached Paris?"

"To not a soul!" Guy answered. "I was very dull in Vienna. I found no one who could speak English, and my few words of German did me no good at all. I came on to Paris within a week."

The duke nodded.

"And in Paris for the first time," he remarked, "you mentioned the affair?"

"Yes! I took up an illustrated paper at a cafe on the night of my arrival while waiting for supper and saw pictures of two men there who reminded me very much of the two whom I had seen on the railway near Pozen. I think I made some remark out loud which attracted the attention of a woman who was sitting at the next table, and later on I told her the whole story."

"And since then?"

"Since then I have told it to no one."

"Was there any one in the cafe you have spoken of who seemed to take any particular interest in you?"

Guy considered for a moment.

"There was a young lady from Vienna," he said, "who seemed to want to talk to me."

The two men exchanged glances.

"Madame has justified herself," the duke murmured.

"She was trying to listen to what I was saying to the English girl—Mlle. Flossie she called herself, and when she went away with her friends she threw me a note with two words on it—'Prenez garde.' I know it struck me as being rather quiet, because"—

He hesitated. The duke nodded.

"Go on," he said.

"Well, I may as well tell you everything," Guy continued, "even if it does sound rather like rot. All the time I was in Vienna and on the journey to Paris I fancied that I was being followed. I kept on seeing the same people, and a man who got in at Strasburg—I had seen him before at the hotel in Vienna—tried all he could to pal up to me. I hate Germans, though, and I didn't like the look of the fellow, so I wouldn't have anything to say to him, though I feel sure he tipped the conductor to put him in my compartment. I gave him the slip at the railway station at Paris, but I'm almost sure I saw him that night at the Cafe Montmartre."

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

That Will Bring Rich Rewards to Every Investor.

A LOCAL AGENCY

To Be Established After Wednesday, April 17.

The Braddock Gold Mining & Milling Co.

AND ALL ABOUT IT.

The Company is controlled and officered by prominent business and professional men of Braddock, Pa. It is capitalized at $1,000,000 and the par value of the stock is $1.00, and is non-assessable. The Company is incorporated under the laws of Oklahoma because such a charter permits the holding of meetings where most of the Directors reside.

The Company owns 80 acres of fine mineral land in the rich mining district of Thunder Mountain, Idaho.

The Company is free from debt. All the development work which was necessary to have done to meet the requirements of the law, before the Company received its patent to the property last September, was paid for from the proceeds of the sales of stock sold previously. Since the granting of the patent a dwelling and blacksmith shop have been erected on the property and a tunnel now in 250 feet completed. This work has also been paid for. There is a good stream of water traversing the property and much good timber on it, both of which are valuable acquisitions to the property. The ore found in the Thunder Mountain district is what is known as low grade ore, which is far preferable to high grade ore, as it is found in every foot of ground, and not in pockets, like the latter. A test made from the ore taken from the tunnel on the property of the Braddock Gold Mining and Milling Co., at a distance of 85 feet, showed a value of $4.13 worth of gold to the ton. Recent tests of ore taken from the tunnel at distances varying to 200 feet showed a value as high as $700 to the ton. It is not expected that such a high average will be maintained, but it is a certainty that paying ore will be found in large quantities. The ore from several of the best paying low grade ore mines in the world only average $4 to $5 to the ton. From this it can readily be seen that the Braddock Gold Mining and Milling Co. has struck a veritable bonanza. Further evidence that such is the case is shown by the success of two adjoining mines—"The Dewey" and "The Sunnyside." The former has been operating for the past two or three years with only a small 10-stamp mill and are taking out $8,000 to $10,000 worth of ore a month. The company contemplate putting in a much larger stamp mill shortly. The latter mine will shortly complete the erection of a 100 stamp mill.

There is no question but that the Braddock Gold Mining and Milling Co. have a wonderfully rich mine, and those who are wise enough to get in on the proposition NOW will certainly reap immense profits.

The Present Price of the Stock is 20c Per Share, But a Big Advance in Prices Will Go Into Effect Soon.

Mr. C. C. Pence, a Director of the Company, will locate headquarters in Connellsville soon. Look for announcement. See him.

ATTACK PRIEST.

HAZELTON, Pa., Apr. 18.—A Black Hand outrage was perpetrated here at 2.20 o'clock this morning when the parochial residence of Rev. Yankola, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, was blown up with dynamite. The object, it is believed, was to kill the priest. The house was wrecked but none of the inmates was seriously injured, although they were thrown violently from their beds.

Several weeks ago the priest received threatening letters saying his house would be blown up and he would be killed, unless he left the city. Two men were seen running away from the scene this morning. Two factions in the church have made life miserable for the pastor.

Downs accepted the office of Recording Secretary to succeed Mrs. W. R. Clasper, who for some time has held the office as well as Corresponding Secretary. Mrs. Clasper retains the latter office. The following resolution was passed:

It is with deepest regret that we lose from our ranks one of our most faithful workers in the removal of Rev. Richard Powell and wife to another field of labor. May she and her husband be abundantly blessed and may they receive the sympathy and support which they so richly deserve.

DISCOVERED SECRET.

Chemist Has Solved Problem of Getting Heat from Ashes.

ALTOONA, Pa., Apr. 18.—The remarkable secret for burning ashes with coal, discovered by John Ellmore, cobbler, is out. Several well known chemists, immediately after it was announced that Ellmore had solved the problem of obtaining heat from ashes, set to work to discover the formula. They were successful, and here it is:

Common salt one pound.
Oxalic acid, two ounces.
Water one gallon.

Mix and moisten a mixture containing one part coal and three parts ashes and a better fuel than pure coal is obtained.

The compound is now being used in many large industrial and mercantile places here, and it is claimed it has reduced the fuel item more than half.

BOUND TO FAIL.

Neutralization of Merchant Vessels Is Important.

BERLIN, April 18.—[Special.]—While the attention of the world has been directed to the coming Peace Congress just held in New York, the attitude that Germany will take at the Hague on the proposition to neutralize all mercantile marines by an international agreement abolishing the seizure of merchant vessels in time of war, is one of great interest. The Kaiser's government will not accept neutralization except with the condition that there shall be no blockade of commercial ports during wars and that such blockades must be prohibited by international treaty.

In view of the fact that England and other great naval powers will probably never relinquish the right to blockade an enemy's entire coast, Germany's attitude means that the neutralization proposal is bound to fail at the Hague Conference.

A Remarkable Showing of Stylish Skirts at $5.00.

We want you to know the sort of skirt we're selling for $5.00. We marked every one of them $6.00 when they came in to cover alteration, but we find that alteration on these is very slight, so in order to sell the best $5.00 skirt possible for you to buy, we've elected to sell these skirts that are in reality worth $6.00 today at $5.00. We, of course, will make a nominal charge for alteration, but this in many cases will be eliminated because of the almost absolute fit of these skirts.

Panama Skirts, were $5.00 to $7.50, now $3.50
Panama Skirts, were $10.00 to $12.50, now $7.50

The penalty of a large business is broken lots. Broken lots are a burden to active stocks, and accomplishing an immediate clearance of this class of merchandise is good business even if it is a direct monetary loss. It means an ultimate asset in the form of complete stocks.

Not a thing wrong with these skirts, absolutely stylish and worth every penny that they formerly brought, but there is only one of a kind, hence the saving to you.

The Skirts at $3.50
All of them Panama, in black, blue or grey. No two alike. Pleated or trimmed with folds, not one worth less than $5.00 and many worth $7.50.

The Skirts at $7.50
These Skirts formerly retailed at from $10.00 to $12.50. A few Votles among these though mostly Panamas, self-trimmed with biased straps and pleats.
